

Name: Andrés Sánchez

Organization: Organization of American States (OAS)

Title: Program Specialist - Department of Sustainable Development (DSD)

Short Biography:

Andrés Sánchez is an Economist from the Universidad de Los Andes in Colombia, with graduate studies on Integrated Water Resources Management (IWRM) at the United Nations University Institute for Water, Environment and Health (UNU-WEH); and on Environmental Sciences and Policy at the Johns Hopkins University in Washington DC. Mr. Sánchez started his professional career in the Department of Sustainable Development (DSD) of the Organization of American States (OAS) in September 2009, working with the team of the Sustainable Cities, Biodiversity and Sustainable Land Management Section. Today, Mr. Sanchez is responsible of the Monitoring and Evaluation component of the IWRM's Global Environmental Facility (GEF) projects portfolio at the Integrated Water Resources Management Section (IWRM) of the DSD/OAS. He is also the project coordinator for the Water Youth Initiative for the Americas.