

Dr. Maria Concepcion Donoso is the UNESCO Founding Chair on Sustainable Water Security at the Institute of the Environment at Florida International University, and she served as Director of International Water Programs. In addition, Dr. Donoso served as Director of the Division of Water Sciences of UNESCO and Secretary of the International Hydrological Programme (2018-2019). Furthermore, also at FIU, Dr. Donoso served for 8 years as the Director of the Global Water for Sustainability Program (GLOWS), leading a consortium implementing an USAID funded multi-million dollar portfolio of water-related projects around the world. Previously, Dr. Donoso was the Regional Hydrologist of UNESCO for Latin America and the Caribbean (LAC), 2003-2010. Dr. Donoso's research and professional interests are in water security, integrated water resources management, and in climate variability impacts on the natural environment and society. Dr. Donoso pursued graduate studies at the People's Friendship University (Moscow, Russia) and the Rosenstiel School of Marine and Atmospheric Science of the University of Miami (Miami, USA). She also holds a Doctor Honoris Causa degree from the Universidad Federico Villarreal (Lima, Peru). Dr. Donoso serves as a member of U.S. committees for international entities based in the U.S. National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine.